

WHERE ARE THE FALLEN ANGELS TODAY?

I AGREE WITH MANY who believe that it is under the surface of the earth and not from “outer space” that the fallen angels, popularly called UFO’s, originate. One author stated that “flying saucers are atmospheric vehicles created by a super race living in the hollow interior of the earth and are not spaceships that came from other planets.” [1]

Another author wrote: “Remarkably, there’s a library of books detailing bright glowing UFOs entering or departing from large bodies of water. Some reports even entail brightly radiated craft seen traveling underwater. These types of aquatic sightings have not only been reported by ships and planes, but witnessed from shore by people who observed these unexplainable glowing craft enter or withdraw from large lakes, rivers, seas and oceans.” [2]

Many agree with these observations, but the important thing is what Scripture says on the subject?

From a biblical perspective, the center of the earth is an active place. Before Christ’s resurrection, we find that both paradise and hell were in the center of the earth. This is borne out when Jesus told about the rich man and Lazarus who, upon death, have one entering paradise and the other hell. The rich man in hell looked up to see Lazarus in paradise (Luke 16:19-31). Also, when Jesus was on the cross, the thief beside Jesus asked Him to remember him when He entered His kingdom. Jesus’ response was that the man would be with Him that same day in paradise (Luke 23:39-43). When Jesus died, He entered into the “lower parts of the earth” (Eph. 4:9).

What this tells us is that hell and paradise were not in some place away from the earth, but were actually under the earth’s surface. This seems to indicate that perhaps the earth is not solid from its surface to its core as many believe, but is actually hollow or filled with large cavities as a growing number believe. In the story of the rich man and Lazarus, hell would be as far center as one could go, being what we call the earth’s inner core. Paradise would probably have been within the outer core.

2 Psalm 139:15 reveals some fascinating information: “My substance was not hid from you, when I was made in secret, and curiously wrought in the lowest parts of the earth.” This is not figurative language. The psalmist reveals it was in the lowest parts of the earth that we were created. Again, the implication is that we were not created in the “lowest parts” of a solid earth.

Also, look at these Scriptures (emphasis added):

1. Psalm 63:9: “Those that seek my soul, to destroy it, shall go into the lower parts of the earth.”
2. Exodus 20:4: “You shall not make unto you any graven image, or any likeness of anything that is in heaven above, or that is in the earth beneath, or that is in the water under the earth.”
3. Job 28:5: “As for the earth, out of it comes bread: and under it is turned up as it were fire.”
4. Philippians 2:10: “That at the name of Jesus every knee should bow, of things in heaven, and things in earth, and things under the earth ...”
5. Revelation 5:3: “No man in heaven, nor in earth, neither under the earth, was able to open the book, neither to look thereon.”
6. Revelation 5:13: “Every creature which is in heaven, and on the earth, and under the earth, and such as are in the sea, and all that are in them, heard I saying, Blessing, and honor, and glory, and power, be to him that sits upon the throne, and to the Lamb forever and ever.”

Now ask yourself, how can water, things, other creatures, or people be under a solid earth? The implication is that the earth is not a solid mass, but has enough space somewhere to occupy hell, water, creatures, and people under its surface. Even science, which is often slow in catching up to Scripture,[3] is more and more seeing this hollow-earth concept as a reality. Arjun Walia writes in his book Mind Blowing Research That Earth Could Be Actually Hollow, “Several prominent individuals have supported the hollow-earth theory, and it is no joke of a list. A number of physicists, astronomers, mathematicians and high-ranking military personnel share the same belief. [4]

A recent article from the NewScientist.com website blared the headline “Massive ‘Ocean’ Discovered Towards Earth’s Core.” [5] It went on to state:” A reservoir of water three times the volume of all the oceans has been discovered deep beneath the Earth’s surface. The finding could help explain where Earth’s seas came from.”

However, I have to admit that science doesn’t have a lot to say about a hollow-earth or what is within the crust or mantle of the earth. Neither theorists or scientists have any real proof about what is under our feet. This is where I stand with Scripture that lets us know there is something more taking place under our feet than we realize. Science is often slow in catching up to Scripture. Science taught us, contrary to Scripture, the world was flat and we evolved from monkeys, in spite of what Scripture outlined more than 5,000 years ago.

Though the hollow-earth theory is a natural conclusion for many to draw, there is another way of looking at this as summarized by author, John E. Chitty in the following quotes: “There are numerous legends associated with the hollow Earth theory, as well as reports alluding to encounters with inter-terrestrial beings and their highly advanced underground civilizations. I personally don't believe the Earth is hollow. The assertion 'hollow Earth' is obviously misleading, seeing how the phraseology leads one to conclude that there is no center core located within this planet, hence the word 'hollow.'

"It's believed that the earth contains a solid spinning inner core. Outside the inner core exist the outer core and 'inner mantle' consisting of magma/molten rock. Outside the inner mantle rest the 'outer mantle' and crust of the planet. The rocky outer mantle is believed to be quite ridged or solid and about 1,800 miles thick.

"Quite naturally, the thickness of the outer crust and mantle would vary at different locations around the planet. Therefore, the conclusive question should not be what resides in the inner (hollow) core of this planet, but rather what is actually living inside the outer crust and mantle of this world?" [6]

The inner earth is most likely home to millions of fallen angels and other creatures, either in its mantle or outer core equal to or surpassing our own, or both. It is without question that hell would be the inner core,

To answer the question, "Where are the fallen angels today?" it seems most probable they are under the earth's surface and not living on other planets. They may have at one time been out there somewhere in space as well as inter-dimensional creatures with access to both God's kingdom and earth's dimension. However, Revelation 12 makes it clear that after Israel became a nation again, they were sent "into the earth" to live here. It is obvious we do not recognize these thirty-three million plus fallen angels among us. I think the reason is the majority are confined under our surface preparing themselves for when they are given permission to arrive in full force on the surface of the earth with the Antichrist.

~2016

REFERENCE

[1] Dr. Raymond Bernard, The Hollow-Earth (New York: Bell Publishing, 1969), 194.

[2] John E. Chitty, The Broken Bible (New York: Writers Club Press, 2002), 263. For our study, I refer you also to the chapter titled, Isaiah and Jeremiah.

[3] Add to the list the earth is a sphere, continental drift, number of stars, earth free floating, and much more. They share their stories through experience, research and more. There really is some mind-blowing information that suggests the Earth could actually be hollow.”

[4] Arjun Walia, Mind Blowing Research Suggests That Earth Could Actually Be Hollow (Collective-evolution.com: August 26, 2013).

[5] Andy Coghlan, Massive ‘Ocean’ Discovered Towards Earth’s Core (NewScientist.com: June 12,2014).

[6] John E. Chitty, The Broken Bible (New York: Writers Club Press, 2002), 274.